PARNELL DEPOSED.

Split in the Nationalist Party.

commons, who are considering the advisability of retiring Mr. Parnell from the leadership of the Nationalist party, reassembled in the committee room of the house of commons, which has been s t apart for their use.

The first business transacted was the reading of Mr. Gladstone's letter in reply to the committee who were appointed to negotiate with the Liberal leader regarding the control of the Irish constabulary and a settlement of the agrarian difficulty. Mr. Gladstone remained firm in his determination to ceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the stomach, prompt in in his determination to in no way recognize Mr. Parnell as the leader of the Nationalists, and his position was emphasized by his letter, in which he offered to conduct negotiations with a new Irish leader on a footing of confidence equal to that which he once accorded to Mr. Parnell. In this to all and have made it the most course Mr. Gladstone is supported by > put a sy resolution to the meeting or to refuse. This kept all his opponents at bay. At last Abraham brought up a resolution declaring Parnell's leade ship at an end. Then ensued a tremend-ous scene. Justin McCarthy held out his hand to receive the resolution, in-tending to put it to the meeting, ignor-ing the chairman, but Parnell, suddenly reaching over, struck McCarthy's hand, seized the resolution and tore it up in the face of the meeting.

Justin Huntley McCarthy, who thus far had acted with Parnell, declaimed passionately against the chairman, accusing him of insulting his father and betraying his country, and went over to the opposition camp, and amid the wildest excitement Sexton, liealy, Mc-Carthy and the rest of the opposition to the number of forty-five walked out of the room and held a meeting of their own. 'they passed a resolution of an abstract kind affirming their adhesion to the doctrines of Home Rule as ratified by the crish people, and proceeded to write a manifesio.

The Parnellites, it is understood, are anxious to force an appeal to the country as soon as possible, and clain that their antagonists are afraid to submit the issue of their conduct to the people. between Rangoon and Guathit.

It is stated on the altered authority of Timothy Healy that the party headed by Justin McCarthy will continue to keep their seats, without any resigna-tions, upholding the cause of Home Rule and waiting for time to bring about a sober and deliberate judgment in the now excited Irish constituencies. Mr. Barry said Saturday that Mr. Par-nell's cause would lose, instead of gaining, with the progress of time, and that the next general election would see him deader than Isaac Butt. Parnell, on the other hand, is said to be entirely confident, and to be already selecting successors for those who have deserted him. He is in ample funds, as since the di-vision in the party several American organizatio is have forwarded money diurers formerly appointed.

A large proportion of the Irish mem-bers have been in receipt of stipends for their services in parliament, and it is difficult to see how those disconnected from Parnell are to receive their salaries hereafter as the common fund is locked up by the imbroglio. One of the first tasks of the McCarthyites will necessarily be to devise some scheme of raising a fund independent of that heretofore relied upon for parliamentary expenses, and it is not likely that either faction will obtain much money from the Irish people until the question of supremacy is settled. Mr. Justin McCarthy, as chairman of the Irish parliamentary party, has ad-dressed a circular to all the Irish members, including Mr. Parnell, summoning them to meet at 2 o'clock to-day. The first business to come before the meeting will be the selection by ballot of a consulting committee of eight.

The anti-Parnellites are discussing the advisability of having Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon return via France, in which country a convention could be held for the purpose of obtaining their advice before they submitted to re-arrest and imprisonment,

Messrs, Gilhooly, P. O'Brien, Carewand Mahon are still classed as doubtful. This makes the Healy-McCarthy party strength fifty and the Parnellites thirty

The Feeling in Ireland.

Dublin, Dec. 8.—Ireland was ablaze with excitement yesterday, many public meetings being held, and the split in the party teing the topic of conversation and discussion everywhere. The bishop's manifesto condemning Parnell was read in all the churches at mass, and the priests added exhortations to the people to obey the spirit of that document in their political action. The people did not seem to take kindly to this clerical interference in some cases. and at Mitchelstown and Kilkenny the Nationalists met after service and adopted resolutions supporting Parnell.

action of the Irish factions in parliament is awaited with the greatest interest, particularly as there are rumors of startling developments in the way of a Tory-Irish alliance.

This Mayor More Determined.

LONDON, Dec. 8 .- The new lord mayor is convinced that it is time for En_lishmen to protest against the inhuman treatment of the Jews in Russia, and in defense to a numerously signed call, has ap ointed next Wednesday as the date of a meeting at the Guild hall. Notwithstanding the seeming indifference of the Russian government, this action on the part of London's chief magistrate is known to be deeply felt, and renewed efforts have been made to throw dust in English eyes, and thereby have the movement dropped, as was done by the preceding lord mayor, Mr. Isaacs, himself a Jew. But this time there will be a meeting.

Queen Emma Bard at Work.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 8,-Queen Emma is taking hold with energy of her duties as regent of Holland. She has called for a full history of the Atcheen war, its causes and progress, and it is understood that she contemplates bringing to a close that frui less struggle, which has lasted since 1873, and cost Holland over 60,000 lives and nearly $30,000,000. The question of the exaction of import duties by the Congo free state is also likely to be brought to a prompt conclusion. The will of the late king leaves the greater part of his private fortune to Queen Emma.

Saturday night James Secor, a man who has been conducting a saloon and gambling room was ar-rested, and when his house was searched four large trunks containing nearly all the articles taken from the Kimmel residence were found.

A further search of the premises brought to light many other articles that have been taken, not only from residences in this city, but from neighboring towns as well. DESPERADO

The Murderer of Campau Captured.

NOT UNTIL FATALLY WOUNDED.

Desperate Fight Between a Sheriff's Posse and Mervin Kuhns Near Cherubusco, in Which One Officer and the Murderer Are Both Fatally Wounded.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Dec. S .- Mervin Kuhns, the Fostoria, O., murderer, for whose arrest $1,000 reward is offered, shot and mertally wounded Police officer John Kennelly, at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, at Cherubusco a small village twent, miles south of here, on the Butler and hel ri er branch of the Wabash railroad. Kubas parents are fairly well-to-do country people, living on their farm, ten miles north of Cherubusco. At not n Saturday Kuhns was noticed by two farmers from that part of the country walking north on Calhoun street, making for the Lake Shore depot, as they supposed, to g > to Auburn, where he could catch a train for Cherubusco, and then e home. They at once notified She iff Viverg. who, with himself and Deputy Sheriii Lindsay in one carriage, and Deputy Sheriff Wilkiuson and Police officer Kennelly in another, started for Cherubuso, as the train had gone.

Viberg and Linds y took one direction, and kennelly and Wilkinson another. The latter carriage reached the village first. It was found he had started for his home. Kennelly and Wilkinson started, and soon overtook him. The officer ordered him to throw up his hands, but instead he fired. The bullet entered Krandler had. entered Kennelly's left cheek, passing out at the back of his neck, crushing the top of the spinal cord, probably causing complete paralysis. Kuhns then started on a run for the woods, but Wilkinson emp.ied his revolver after him, two of the shots taking effect in Kuhns back, but he succeeded in escaping on horseback. Kennelly was at once hur-ried to Cherubusco. The physicians there say recovery is impossible.

Reinforcements were then had and a hot pursuit after the desperado was given. Kunns was found two hours later at a farm house near by, where he fell off his horse. His wounds are fatal.

Kuhns' parents have for years resided in the north part of Whitley county, and often came here to trade. Kuhns

They were brutal and fierce in every respect, and one horse ridden by a fighter was horned three times, ripping its left forleg almost from the body. The bulls were vicious and kept the crowd at a fever of excitement during the afternoon. The last bull was sabred and dragged from the arena

While the soldiers were absent from the post attending the fight, the convict soldiers revolted at the barracks, killing the sergeant of the guards, a corporal and a private. The murderers, eighteen in number, broke from the barracks and escaped to the mountains. GLITTERING GOLD.

The Precious Metal Discovered in Bartholomew County, Ind.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Dec. 8.- Some eighteen miles southwest of this city is the highest point in this state. The elevation is known as Sampson Hill, and is owned by an old German by the name of Gore. The elevation is very rough and rocky. The hill is covered by a luxurious growth of valuable timber, but has so far been of little value be-cause of the difficulty of reaching it.

The value of this timber has attracted many visitors to this spot of late, and this has led to the exploration of some of the deep gulches in the rocks worn out by the water from the many small springs. A few days ago a metal was discovered in the bed of one of these gulches in considerable quantities, which has since been annalyzed and proves to be gold. Great excitement prevails.

KING KALAKAUA'S MISSION. He Wants the Hawalian Islands Annexed to the United States. San Francisco, Dec. 8.-King Kalakana has not come here merely for health, neither has he come, as some have reported, to float a $2,000,000 loan, on which he would pocket a tidy commission. It has just leaked out that his mission is to propose to the state departmen the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands to the United States.

This news comes directly from a man largely interested in sugar interests on the islands and may be accepted as authoritative. Of course Kalakaua's officers will deny it, but all the facts show that the king has reached the jumping-off placed, and must decide shortly either to risk another revolution or to sell his kingdom and get a pension. He has been authorized by the Hawaiian government to tender the islands to secretary Blaine on terms which, it is thought, congress will accept.

The sugar planters, as well as Kalakaua, are in the hole. Under the receprocity they really got a bonus of two largely interested in sugar interests on procity they really got a bonus of two cents a pound on all their sugar. Now under the McKin ey bill, which makes sugar free, they lose all this, because the growers of this country receive a bounty of two cents a pound. If the Hawaiian Islands come under the American flag the planters would receive this bounty, which would amount to several million per year.

It is believed the administration will receive Kalakaua's overtures with favor. Mr. Blaine on repeated occasions has expressed opinion that sound policy demands that the Unite States should control the Hawaiian Islands, and he will back any movement for their acquisition on favorable terms. It is not known what demands Kalakaua will make, but the belief is that they will not be excessive.

Both were arrested and had their preliminary hearing, and were Saturday afternoon bound over to court under heavy bonds. The capture of Steel is a lucky one, in that he has been identified as the highwayman that held up Clerk Netterville, Auditor Allen, Cashier Hartman and Frank Humphyey one night in September last, and robbed each of them of sums of money ranging from $5 to $50. Steel is perhaps 35 years old, is of fine physique and single. He is addicted to periodical sprees.
